

I Want More Eye Contact With My Patients.

Your EHR Doesn't Have to Change Your Patient's Exam Room Experience. Mercury Transcription Can Help.

A recent article in AMA's American Medical News cited physician concern that EHRs change the dynamics of the patient-doctor relationship. Why? Because many EHRs require physicians to type in patient data themselves instead of focusing their attention on the patient.

It doesn't have to be that way. With Mercury Transcription, physicians dictate notes instead of typing them, and Mercury Transcription automatically imports transcribed notes into the EHR. It's that simple.

At Mercury Transcription, we believe highly trained medical specialists shouldn't be reduced to typists. Call us today to start your free trial. For more information, contact us at:
